Session 11: The Road to Emmaus

Fall Semester Timeline

Summary

In this session, we are invited to see the road to Emmaus as a map for our own discipleship. Christ draws near to confused and discouraged disciples, but he does not leave them in their limited understanding. He opens the scriptures so that they can understand His suffering, glory, and mission. Their hearts burn as the scriptures are explained, and their eyes are opened to see Christ in the breaking of the bread. This reveals the shape of the Mass, where the liturgy of the Word leads into the liturgy of the Eucharist. The speaker for this session challenges us to confront our pride and admit that we need Christ to teach us. It also reminds us that conversion must go deeper through daily choices, not remain trapped in a memory from the past. We are called to become men who receive Christ deeply and then bear witness to Him in the world.

Small Group Goals

- Recognize the deep connection between Sacred Scripture and the Eucharist.
- Encourage men to let Christ open their minds and hearts through the Word of God.
- Invite men to see ongoing conversion as daily, lifelong, and practical.

Discussion Questions

- What is the importance of scripture for us as Catholics? How much do we prioritize an understanding of God's Word? How can we do more?
- How real is ongoing conversion in my life?

Supplemental Questions

- What keeps you from reading or praying with Scripture more consistently?
- How can preparing for Sunday Mass by reading the Scriptures ahead of time change your experience of the Eucharist?
- Where is God asking you to grow in ongoing conversion as a husband, father, friend, or disciple?
